

Webinars 2A and B

Homework: It's Time For You To Write That Book, 2.0

CHRISTIANBLOGGERSINTERNATIONAL.COM
SUELLEN ESTES

HTTPS://CHRISTIANBLOGGERSINTERNATIONAL.COM

- 1. Look over your writing and decide where you need more information. You can quote other authors who have written similar items. (Just be sure to include credit for their writing).

Mark these places and topics. Insert your new ideas.

- 2. What are some keywords which apply to your topic?

Begin a search query on Google.com, Bing.com, or other online search engines. Put your keywords or phrases in the search box, and review some information. Try not to get too distracted. Stick to your purpose at hand.

3. Do you need to visit your library for more information? Do this.

Always write down the ideas you are getting so that they can be added to your project.

4. Do you think that you need to interview someone? If so, arrange a time to do that. Be sure to follow through.

5. Do you need to visit a site for your book? If so, arrange it.

6. Organize your research on Notepad, a Word document, or on 3x5 cards. Decide which pieces of info to use, and which to set aside.

7. During your quiet time each day, think about some stories or anecdotes which can enhance your writing.

Think of some ways you can paint pictures for your readers.

8. Be sure to write something everyday. Your thoughts and words add up faster than you might think.

9. If you haven't joined the Facebook group, do it. We want to hear from you.

10. Bonus: For those who have the time, Design your Vision Board. This will help you stay focused and motivated.

11. Have you told your Family and Friends that you are Writing your Book? If not, do this. You Want them to Hold You Accountable.